

The 9 income streams, checked

A post claiming a $200 bot runs 9 automated income streams. The tools are real. The arithmetic is not. One stream is worth a cheap test.

01 What the post says

Two layers, one job each. Nine income streams on top.

- Kimi Agent Swarm researches the market overnight in parallel.
- Grok Bot runs a cloud computer with your logins and does the daily work while you sleep.
- 9 streams on top, claimed $2k to $30k a month each, 80 to 95% automated. All 9 are ranked below.

THE TELL IS IN THE FIRST SIX LINES

The headline says the bot paid its own salary. Four lines down the body says "So close to covering its cost." There is not one reported dollar anywhere in the post. Every figure is a projection.

02 What breaks

Three things break it, and all three are verified rather than estimated.

- The ad math needs a premium network you cannot join. Raptive requires 25,000 pageviews a month per site. Mediavine's on-ramp requires 1,000 sessions. The post's model gives each site 300 visits. At AdSense rates the $3,000 becomes $150 to $450. VERIFIED from both networks' own pages.
- The fix walks into Google's spam policy by name. One domain with 500 tool pages clears the traffic gate. Google's own scaled content abuse rule covers "generative AI tools to generate many pages without adding value." 5 core and spam updates shipped in 2026, and the last one finished 6 days before the post.
- The author sells a product the post never mentions. NicheTrafficKit, $39 to $499 a month, and it automates Facebook pages. Not tool sites, not lead gen, not KDP. The 9 streams are the funnel.
- The price is not $200. Grok Bot is real and launched 2026-08-11, but that figure conflates a $200 plan and a $300 plan, and xAI states usage is billed separately on top with no rate card published. The running cost is UNKNOWN, and it is not defaulted to zero.

03 The 9, ranked

Ranked by whether money actually arrives, not by the headline number.

STREAM	REAL READ	CONF.	RUNS ON
Home services lead gen	Real buyers, real market, marketplace route exists	MED	You + CC
Newsletter	Sponsor money is real at 5k subs. Getting 5k subs is the job	MED	You + CC
YouTube	Real CPMs. You record. The 80% automated is the script	LOW-MED	You + CC
Affiliate comparisons	Same ranking risk as tool sites, better economics per visit	LOW-MED	CC
KDP books	3 titles a day cap, AI disclosure required, downside is account death	LOW	CC

STREAM	REAL READ	CONF.	RUNS ON
Pinterest	Traffic is real. It funnels to a property you still need	LOW	CC + bot
Facebook pages	The author's actual product. Reach real, revenue unproven	LOW	bot
X revenue share	Post says $4 to $6 CPM. Sources say $8 to $12 per million	V. LOW	bot
Ad-funded tool sites	Fails a verified structural gate. 7x to 20x short	V. LOW	-
Legal lead gen	Colorado banned selling legal leads effective 2026-08-12	DO NOT	-

04 Selling leads

The right instinct, and the post hides the hard part.

- The rates are real, quoted at the ceiling. Post says plumbing $80 to $200. Thumbtack reports $35 to $90, Angi $15 to $85 plus a membership.
- You do not have to close every buyer. PX, Service Direct and Lead Smart buy from independent publishers, which removes the cold-selling problem and takes the margin with it. Direct buyers pay more and need an entity, a contract each, and call tracking.
- Refuse legal leads. Colorado SB26-174 makes selling them a deceptive trade practice, effective 2026-08-12, 15 days before the post that prices them highest.

05 Your stack against theirs

You already own most of it.

- Claude Code and Codex do every job in the post except one. Keyword research through DataForSEO at $0.06 per 1,000 keywords, building and publishing pages, shipping to GitHub Pages, and writing in your voice, which the voice log already holds.
- The one gap is running at 3am with you asleep. No cloud VM, no stored logins. That is Grok Bot's entire product and it is the only thing worth paying for here.
- It is worth less than it sounds. The bottleneck in all 9 streams is ranking and selling. Neither is solved by publishing faster.

THE CALL

Do not buy the stack. Test the one stream that needs none of it.

Grok Bot plus Kimi plus domains runs roughly $420 to $520 a month before metered usage, which is unpublished. A pay-per-call lead test costs a phone number and an application, with no domains, no ad network and no ranking. Find out whether anyone pays you for a lead first.

Figures from the organisations' own pages are verified. RPM and lead-price ranges come from trade sources and are marked as likely, not verified. Grok Bot metered usage is unpublished and is stated as unknown rather than assumed to be zero.

Glossary

RPM Revenue per 1,000 pageviews. The post writes it as a per visit figure, which is 1,000x different.

Premium ad network Mediavine, Raptive and similar. Pay far more than AdSense and enforce traffic minimums.

Doorway abuse Google's term for many near-identical sites or pages built to widen search reach.

Scaled content abuse Google's term for mass-generated pages that add no value. Named in the current spam policy.

Pay per call A lead network pays you per qualified phone call. No site, no ranking, no ad network needed.

Exclusive lead Sold to one buyer. Shared leads go to several and pay a fraction.

Agent swarm Many sub-agents run in parallel on one research task. Kimi's real ceiling is 300, not thousands.

Cloud VM A machine that stays on with your logins when your laptop is closed. The only real gap in your stack.

SB26-174 Colorado law effective 2026-08-12 making paid legal lead generation a deceptive trade practice.

Metered usage Billed by consumption on top of a subscription. Grok Bot has it and publishes no rate.
